THE SERVANT QUESTION.

Meeting at the Selangor Club. A general meeting of residents of Kuals Lumpur and district took place on Aug. 21 at the Selanger Olub, Mr Venning, Acting

British Resident, Scienger, presiding. Mr Venning, in his opening remarks, recalled the fact that last year a inceting had been held to consider the matter in hand and that it had then been decided to draw up an Ensoment to regulate the labour market. A Committee had then been appointed, but, owing to the absence of some of its members, the matter had been considerably delayed. However, Mr Joaquim had drafted an Enactment on similar lines to that which had been at work in Coylon for the past 25 years with no much success. Mr Venning then called upon Mr Jeaquim to read the draft.

It is not necessary now to give more than a bare outline of the scheme, which was as

All servants will be required to be registered within a certain time of the coming into force of the Enactment; but, in consideration of the interests of natives who employ servants at a low wage, it is provided that all those who are working for less than $8 per month small be exempt. The servant will be required to furnish his photograph, record of previous service, and copies of testimonials to the Registrar. Employers will be bound to make entries in the books furnished to each servant, showing a succinct record of such servant's work whilst in his or her employ, and stating clearly the reasons for his leaving.

when such an event may take place. Then follows a description—of course for the present without details-of the penalties entailed on master and man for non-fulfilment of the various provisions. Such, in bare outline, are the details of the scheme. On discussion being invited, Mr Norman asked for information with regard to any similar institution in China. Mr Carey said it was a mistake that the community should regard the Enactment as an attack on the servants, and he himself GODOWNS at Bownington (Praya thought that, providing the matter were laid before them in a proper manner, they would fall in with it. He went on to draw attention to the fact that at present 1704 servants pay 82 a month to their kongsis to keep them when out of employment. Mr Carey concluded by saying that he thought it was quite possible that under the proposed new conditions the servants might meet us half-way. Dr McClosky was in favour of the Enactment as drafted. Mr Zacharias asked whether the terms of the Enactment would apply to all nationalities alike, and received an answer in the

Mr Venning, in summing up, said that he was in doubt as to whother the meeting could be considered representative, owing to the small number of those present, but he went on to state that he thought that if it has a splendid view, and enjoys the full | the Enactment could be passed it would be. of the greatest benefit to the community. He then put the motion to the meeting. that the Enactment as drafted be submitted to the Government for consideration. This was carried unanimously, and the meeting. after tendering a vote of thanks to Mr Venning for presiding, broke up .- Malay

> WHAT IS PAIN BALM? CHAMBERLAIN'S Pain Baim is a U liniment and, while adapted to all the ordinary uses of a liniment, has qualities which distinguish it from other romedies of this class. Pain Balm is especially beneficial for rheumatism. Thousands of cases can be cited in which it has effected a core when the sufferer had previously tried the best medical service without securing relief. Pain Balm is positively guaranteed to give relief in the most severe cases of chronic or ncute rheumatism.

> Pain Balm heals bruises, burns and scalds in less time than any other treatment. It is 'entiseptic' that is, it prevents putrefaction and by so doing, generally prevents an unsightly sear remaining after the injury is healed. For lame back, lumbage and neuralgia, Pain Balm has no equal, It has the quality of 'getting to' the right spot.' No sufferer from these distressing affections should defer a trial of this remedy. One application gives relief. Try it. For sale by All Dealers; WATKINS Ltd., General

DEPINITION AND AXIOMS. All boarding-houses are the same poarding-house. Boardors in the same boarding-house and on the same that are equal to one another.

A single room is that which has no parts and no magnitude.

The landlady of the boarding house is a parallelogram—that is, an oblong, augular figure which cannot be describ. ed, and which is equal to anything?

A wrangle is the disinclination of two boarders to each other, that meet together but are not on the same floor, All the other rooms being taken, a single room is said to be a double room. POSTULATES AND PROPOSITIONS.

A pie may be produced any number of times.

The landlady can be reduced to her lowest terms by a series of propositions. A bee-line may be made from any boarding-house to any other boarding-

The clothes of a boarding-house bed, though produced ever so far both ways, will not meet.

Any two meals at a boarding-house are together less than two square feeds. On the same bill and on the same side of it there should not be two charges for the same thing.

If there be two boarders on the same floor, and the amount of side of the one be equal to the amount of side of the other, and the wrangle between the one boarder and the landlady be equal to the wrangle between the landlady and the other boarder, then shall the weekly bills of the two boarders be equal. For if not, let one bill be the greater: then the other bill is less than it might have been, which is absurd.

Childhood is the formative period of manhood and womanhood. As the child is so is the adult. Hence, health is most necessary during this important stage of physical development. Ill-health renders children stupid and duff, disinclined to play, prevents proper development of mind and muscle. A sickly, weakly child cannot be expected to enter mature life, healthy and robust, and to achieve the possibilities of such a life.

Often children need a good tonic-some thing to stimulate their organs to the full performance of healthful function, or arouse latent energies. A failure to give a good tonic at such times is to withhold from the child a stimulus that may materially effect the future happiness and success of its

is a tonic and tissue-builder admirable adapted to children. It is delicious in tasty and they like it. It does not disturb their stomachs and has no drawbacks. Its influence is for good only—it makes children grow, makes their eyes bright, their checks rosy. It makes them gleeful and full of life. It forms them into stalwart men and healthful women. > A Tiger Story. There is a story corrent at Kuliang

(says the Foochow Echo) about a tiger in some other part of the province giving trouble. It is said that a couple of Missionaries, a man and his wife, had been worried by a tiger prowling nightly around WATSON & CO., their nome, and they were determined to get rid of it. To this end they, one night, tied a cow up in the back yard and a dog in the front of the house, then they armed themselves with guns and kept watch. The tiger appeared, the missionary fired and killed the cow. The wife rushed to see what had happened and in her absence the tiger ate the dog.

Siberian Route for Letters.

The P. and T. Times says:-The Chartered Bank is continuing to have a good experience of the better facilities of the new Siberian route for its correspondence. The mails which left London on July 25th reached the Bank in Tientsin on August 20th, while advices which left England exactly a fortnight before were delivered by the sea route on August 21st. In other words the railway beat the steamer by 15 days, and took 25 days instead of 41. There is just a little element of comedy in the new state of affairs; the more waggish of the merchants are solicitous about meeting their bills 16 days before normal time, if the Bank agency

He had missed some money, and feeling that he would like to have the thief, he, on the 25th ult., marked a dollar's worth of ten-cent pieces, put them in . coat pocket, hung it up in the Club, as went out. On his return, he missed four of them. He ordered the tambies to produce what money they had, but did not find the marked coins. Three of the coins were found on the defendant. Mr Southam gave corroborative evidence. Mr Innes asked for a severe penalty as several thefts had been committed at the Club. M Stiven had lost a gold watch. The man told a plausible story to the effect that l was the victim of a conspiracy, but M Marriott sentenced him to six months imprisonment,

ITALY AND GERMANY, Benlin, August 27.

The King of Italy arrived to-day in Berlin, accompanied by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Prinetti, and suite. His visit is considered a demonstration of the Triple Alliance against the revenge in France. Questions of a commercial nature have not yet been discussed. The Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung and the Reichsanzeiger welcome in a very hearty manner the King of Italy. The semi-official Norddeutshe praises King Vittorio Emanuelo III as a talented ruler and energetically, and wishes that Italy will be able to build up her position as one of the great powers of the world by means of her own strongth and on the basis of her national unity and welfare. The official Reichsanzeiger declares that the Triple Alliance answers the common exigency, that the status oue in Central Europe will be maintained. The paper then welcomes the Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr Prinetti, who is accompanying the King, saying that he has had a very great share in bringing about the renewal of the Triple Alliance, which has proved to be such an essential guarantee. for the maintenance of the territorial status

The Opposition Press is also speaking in very favourable terms about Italy.

A LIVING PARADOX.

is he a four-footed beast or creeping thing? Neither. A man who acts as men usually act in the ordinary affairs of life? Yes. Notwithstanding this he must be put down as an inexplicable paradox. We wil then at once say that this sui generis is the average Christian Missionary in China. One cannot read the narratives about, and listen to the descriptions of the missionary and his work and yet avoid this conclusion. By some it is maintained that he is an enthusiast who has left most things that men value, and has settled among a herd of unappreciative ignoraforces to raise into a higher life. He has penetrated Inland China, with a set of ideas that are so far advanced beyond the grip of those to whom he offers them that the people have not the slightest chance of accepting them. He preaches an ideal nese coolies, who don't appear to know that barefaced lying is a thing to be ashamed of, but who will build a house of mud, when they have been paid to build it of good lime, and will laugh when they know that the building has fallen and crushed twenty persons to death. He settles with his gentle wife in some inland town and opens a hospital for the sick and dying, and at once gives all his time and that appear of him, by those who seem to strength to the cleansing of ulcers, and the battling with fevers, at times regardless of the needs of solf, and even food and rest, Whether men stone him or send him complimentary tablets, belanding, in extravagant language, his consummate skill, appears to make no difference, for the energy by which he is sustained, can neither be augmented nor lessened.

By others, our Missionary is regarded as the very incarnation of malighity, who has direct communication with the Princel Fiend of Evil, whose purpose is to destroy the people by means of incantations, compared with which the most skilful wizard of the dark ages was but a tyro in the art of destroying men, when cholera sweeps across the city and carries off They then anchored near the flagship when its thousands, he, by the magic of his cheers. wand, has done the mischief. Again, our missionary, according to the judgment of some, when he comes out to China, selects as his place of residence the recollection of the loyalty and affection most desirable place in the entire district, where he has every hope of enjoying vigorous health, and there he settles down. It is usually some imposing hilltop, overlooking the neighbouring city, which is Canton, and the two Kwang provinces, swept by sen breezes laden with health. him. it that he assumes to be the only correct one, he runs full tilt against the most cherished traditions of those amongst whom he lives, till their patience is exhausted, and they rise and burn the intruder out, even if they do not kill him outright. Then if he escapes the rage of the exasperated people, he requisitions both the Consul and gunboat, in order to intimidate the irritated people and cow them into reluctant submission, and in order to constrain the officials to guarantee that there shall be no repetition of the offence. These episodes are multiplied to an alarming extent, and the more numerous are the missionaries the more is the peace between the because, as we have said, unless it two countries menaced, and the international relations atrained. TARIFF REVISION.

SHANGHAI August 28. The Commissions appointed from home to negotiate new commercial treaties with China may well feel bewildered by the variety and inconsistency of the advice that is tendered them, and the irreconcilability of the criticism that is levelled at the drafts that are the fruit of their long and toilsome negotiations. They must begin to feel that they have made a great mistake in not sticking to the old fashion of signing the treaty first and publishing its afterwards. No treaty can possibly please everybody, treaty which is disclosed piece-meal as i goes on, pleases nobody. The British unintentionally, is the most effective themselves have diverse interests and are 1819 that is best not all of one mind; and Hongkong and Comp issioners always consistent with themselves, as the U.S. Secretary of State, Colonel John Hay, pointed out recently, welfare of the Empire by the ineffaceable | the obstruction caused by the Foreign Customs to trade on the Upper Yangtze and the illusory nature of the concession of inland waters pavigation, are dealt with in the new treaty, and we have a promise of now mining regulations, which shall be more reasonable than those now in force. But our great object is to increase the purchasing power of the Chinese so that we sell them more of our 'We all know,' says 'that the encouragement of the export trade and the development of the resources of the country is the only way to increase the purchasing power of the poor and thrifty Chinese consumer, and this can only be done to a serious extent by the old story—the opening [(Florio & Rubattino United Companies.) up of the country to foreign enterprise. To make such enterprise good the introduction of capital is the first necessity; for foreign capital to be freely introduced we have two main requisites—freedom and security. Neither of these requisites do we possess at present Can the Commission now sitting in Shanghai induce the Chinese grant them? When these two requisites shall have been granted the other great obstacles to trade,--absonce of roads and the power of official obstruction to pullify enterprise, native as well as foreign-will in time disappear of themselves. Hence, although I am in favour of granting an addition of ten per cent to the import duty in exchange for the abolition of likin and all other internal dues, we should, I think, at the same time press, as far as we can, for the real opening up of the country in freedom and security. Given this, we should obtain not only a quid pro quo, but an ultimate incalculable gain to our whole import trade. By freedom I mean that a foreigner shall be free to do any lawful act in the pursuit of his legitimate business, and that our treaties with China be so far amend ed as to enable a foreigner to establish industries in any part of China, subject only to the restrictions of Common Law in his dealings with his neighbours; that he shall be free to enter into industrial partnerships with Chinese and to aid them in adopting improved methods of production. By security I mean that foreigners shall be at sular Court. The Chinese would not suffer by the granting of this privilege, for it is notorious that a foreigner buying or leasing land in China pays, as a rule, ten times as much as a native would pay under similar circums-It is to be feared that it is in this direction that the new treaty does not go nearly as far as could be wished, and that it, therefore, must not be accepted as a final answer to our demands. Unfortunately, it 19 so difficult to persuade the Chinese that everything that promotes the trade between foreigners and Chinese is as beneficial to the one side as it is to the other. Apperently we shall have to accept the new treaty as an instalment on account, hoping that as onlightenment spreads in China. the Chinese government will see more and more clearly, the advantage of really throwing the empire open to foreign trade somewhat sarcastically, to the American Association of China The letter headed Taviff Revision which appeared in these columns on the 20th of June last over the signature of Mr. Archibald Little deserved perhaps more attention than it has received, considering the writer's long career in China, and his special experience of trade in the Yangtze Valley and the largest province in China, itself the size of a European kingdom, Sezeehuan. While Mr Little has always urged the abolition of likin as the first point to be secured, he gives it as his experience that likin and the desglorious, and there was a multitude of tination tax-loti-shui-together rarely equal and never exceed five per cent. making with the import duty ten per cent. against the twelve-and-a-half of the proposed import duty and surtax.
